

HOTEL MIKADO

A COMEDY BY S.P. FRANKSSON

- welcome to hotel mikado [the synopsis]

When Kevin and Wendy decided to celebrate their 10th wedding anniversary by revisiting the hotel where they spent their honeymoon, they were looking forward to a relaxing and romantic getaway.

But as with all good comedies, things do not go exactly as planned especially when Henry and Mary are staying at the same hotel...

- guest information [the cast]

Four cast are required, all aged 40-50ish.

KEVIN: Married to Wendy. Rather common in nature. Prone to jealousy probably due to his insecurities. Thinks he is a funny man so sends his jokes off to Readers Digest who promptly bin them.

WENDY: Happily married for the past 10 years after leaving her first husband Henry, for Kevin. Tolerates her husband's insecurities and has knocked a few rough edges off him.

HENRY: Still loves his ex-wife Wendy and would do almost anything to get her back, English teacher, loves scrabble and bird watching.

MARY: Henry's companion, very protective of him, very talkative without a filter - no airs and graces and loves her gin.
